PREAMBLE TO THE NATIONAL CONSTITUTION

Proud possessors of a priceless heritage, we male descendants of veterans of the Great Wars, associate ourselves together as "Sons of The American Legion" for the following purposes:

To uphold and defend the Constitution of the United States of America; to maintain law and order; to foster and perpetuate a true spirit of Americanism; to preserve the memories of our former members and the association of our members and our forefathers in the Great Wars- to inculcate a sense of individual obligation to the Community, State and Nation, to combat the 9 I autocracy of both the classes and the masses; to make right the master of might- to promote peace and good will on earth; to safeguard and transmit to posterity the principles of justice, freedom and democracy, to consecrate and sanctify our friendship by our devotion to mutual helpfulness; to adopt in letter and spirit all of the great principles for which The American Legion stands; and to assist in carrying on for God and Country.

THE AMERICAN'S CREED

I believe in the United States of America as a government for the people, by the people; whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed- a democracy in a republic- a sovereign nation of many sovereign states; a perfect union, one and inseparable; established upon those principals of freedom, equality, justice and humanity for which American patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes.

I therefore believe it is my duty to my country to love it; to support its Constitution; to obey its laws; to respect its flag; and to defend it against all enemies.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE

I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America and to the, republic for which it stands, one nation, under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

HISTORY OF THE SONS OF THE AMERICAN LEGION

Born in the midst of the Great Depression of the 1930's, and almost killed by the one-two punch of two wars, the Sons of The American Legion lives on. The idea of a junior American Legion organization was first discussed at the Legion's 3rd National Convention in 1922. Because so few Legionnaires had yet become parents, the idea had little national appeal. But by the late 1920's, Legion Posts around the nation were enrolling Sons of Legionnaires in junior organizations on their own. These groups were variously known as Legion-Heirs, the Junior Legion, Sons of American Legionnaires, and Sons of World War Veterans.

The Legion's 1930 National Convention created a committee to study the feasibility of a junior Legion. The establishment of the Sons as a non-profit, nonsectarian civilian organization was authorized by action of The American Legion's 14th National Convention in Portland, Oregon in September 1932. The 1933 National Convention officially changed the name of the organization to "The Sons of The American Legion," authorized the abbreviation "S.A.L." and set annual national membership dues at 25 cents.

The first Squadron chartered was Bruce P. Robison Post #133 in Indianapolis, Indiana. The very first membership card was issued to John P. Ragsdale; his brothers Edward and Robert were also charter members and received cards #2 and #3. John was killed in an aerial mission over Germany in 1943. In 1946, the name of the Post was changed to Robison-Ragsdale Post 133. By 1934, the S.A.L. expanded to 24 Detachments, 170 Squadrons, and 524 members. In the late 1930's, Sons were closely involved with Legionnaires in nationwide radio programs and printed a monthly national newspaper called "The Legion Heir." There were over 60,000 members in 1938 when Paramount Pictures released a film entitled "Sons of The Legion" starring Donald O'Connor, William Frawley, and Evelyn Keyes. The movie played in thousands of theaters around the country where local S.A.L. musical units furnished live entertainment.

The S.A.L. had over 70,000 members in the late 30's and was growing rapidly. But World War 11 erupted and most Sons marched off, many of them never returned. Sons who remained on the home front also did their part working in civil defense, helping to operate aircraft warning posts, participating in war bond drives, collecting scrap metals and working in defense plants.

When Sons returned home after World War 11, they found their military service had made them eligible to join the ranks of The American Legion. In the decade between 1946 and 1956, an era, which included the Korean War, millions of ex-servicemen and women, joined The American Legion. Paradoxically, as the ranks of The Legion swelled, membership in the Sons dropped to fewer than 6,000 and the organization flirted with extinction.

Only through the efforts of dedicated Legion Family members did the S.A.L. turn around. In 1958, membership inched passed the 10,000 mark then climbed to nearly 17,000 in the early 1960's. The Legion's 441 National Convention in October 1962 appointed a special study group to revamp the structure of the Sons. A study group met in April 1963 and recommended increasing dues to 50 cents per member, eliminated military sounding S.A.L. officer titles and designated an official S.A.L. uniform. The study group met again in January 1964 and recommended updating the S.A.L. Constitution, initiating membership awards and revising the S.A.L. handbook.

The Sons' first National S.A.L. Workshop was conducted during the Legion's 1964 National Convention in Dallas. National Workshops continued annually through 1967, and then were replaced by National Caucuses, which were held annually through 1971. All Past National Caucus Chairmen are now recognized as Past National Commanders of the S.A.L. In 1972, the Legion's National Executive Committee approved the creation of a national S.A.L. organization under the full supervision and control of the Legion's N.E.C., thus opening the door for the Sons of The American Legion to hold their first National Convention in Chicago in August 1972. Robert Faust of California was elected the 1st National Commander of the Sons.

Sons celebrated their 50th Anniversary in 1982. At the S.A.L. National Convention in Chicago that year, the Sons held a Gala Golden Anniversary Banquet. A 501 Anniversary Book and special commemorative lapel pins were issued and the movie "Sons of The Legion," produced in 1938, was shown.

In 1992, the S.A.L. National Organization began a reorganization of its commissions and committees. Various committees were placed under the oversight of one of six national commissions for the purpose of coordinating activities. Under this new structure, the S.A.L. established Squadron Americanism Awards in 1993, Scholastic Awards for Boys Nation and Junior Shooting Sports in 1994, and re-established the S.A.L. National Color Guard Award in 1996.

The Sons conducted their first Training Institute for Detachment Commanders in 1995, providing state officers with valuable leadership skills and managerial expertise. At their 1996 National Convention in Salt Lake City, Sons celebrated their Silver Anniversary National Convention. That same year, S.A.L. members nationwide contributed more than $116,000 to the American Legion's Child Welfare Foundation, making them the largest contributor to the Foundation that year.

Every year since the establishment of the National Organization in 1972, the S.A.L. has recorded new all-time membership records. In 1990, membership in the Sons exceeded 100,000 for the first time ever. S.A.L. membership broke the 200,000 mark in 1997.

MEMBERSHIP AND ELIGIBILITY

Membership is the lifeblood of our organization. Membership in the Sons of The American Legion is directly related to the success of our projects and programs. Every member should concern himself with the recruitment of new members as well as helping secure renewals each year.

You should always carry an application for membership with you should the opportunity to recruit a new member ever arise. Just as every member is important to the overall success of the organization, the renewal and recruitment of members is everyone's responsibility.

All male descendants, adopted sons and stepsons of members of The American Legion, and such male descendants of veterans who died in service during World 1, World War 11, Korean War, the Vietnam War, Lebanon, Grenada, Panama, and the Persian Gulf War, during the delimiting periods set forth in Article IV, Section 1, of the National Constitution of The American Legion, or who died subsequent to their honorable discharge from such service, shall be eligible for membership in the Sons of The American Legion.

The following eligibility periods have been established for membership in The American Legion:

Aug. 2, 1990 thru (still open)
Dec. 20, 1989 thru Jan. 21, 1990
Aug. 24, 1982 thru July 31, 1984
Feb. 28, 1961 thru May 7, 1975
June 25, 1950 thru Jan. 31, 1955
Dec. 7, 1941 thru Dec. 31, 1946
April 6, 1917 thru Nov. 11, 1918

If an individual meets the eligibility requirements for both organizations, it is possible to belong to both, The American Legion and the Sons of The American Legion. Individuals who belong to both are known as dual members.

There shall be no forms or class of membership except an active membership.

THE SONS OF THE AMERICAN LEGION EMBLEM

The design of our emblem was taken from the emblem of our parent organization, but is oval in shape so as to be easily distinguished.

The star in the center represents our country, and the five points of the star represent the five-point program American Legion.

The sun in the background represents The Sons of The American Legion and the rays represent the loyalty of its membership.

The blue of the emblem, like the blue of our flag, stands for justice.

The two stars in the blue border stand for freedom and democracy.

The wreath below the star is in memory of our comrades, and those willingly gave their lives for their country.

The ten points of the emblem represent the ten ideals of every Legion son.

ORGANIZATIONAL STRUCTURE OF THE SONS OF THE AMERICAN LEGION

National Organization

The American Legion created the National Organization of the Sons of The American Legion in 1971 to better coordinate the efforts of Squadrons and Detachments. The Annual National Convention is the chief legislative body of the organization, and is held each year in conjunction with The American Legion's National Convention. The Convention elects a National Commander, five National Vice Commanders (one for each Region), and a National Chaplain. All other National Officers (National Adjutant, five Assistant Adjutants, Judge Advocate, Historian, Sergeant at Arms, five Assistant Sergeants at Arms and Commander's Aide) are appointed by the National Commander with the consent of the National Executive Committee. Between Conventions, the administration of the S.A.L. is vested in it's National Executive Committee, a body made up of one representative and one alternate representative from each Detachment, plus all elected National Officers and all Past National Commanders. The N.E.C. meets twice each year in Indianapolis, Indiana, and also immediately preceding and following the National Convention. The several Detachments are organized into five regions (East, South, Central, Midwest, West). In addition, there are seven standing National Commissions (Americanism, Finance, Public Relations, Legislative, Veterans Rehabilitation, Internal Affairs, Children & Youth) and seven standing National Committees (Convention, Membership, Child Welfare, Membership Development & Training, Community Service, Commanders Advisory, Resolutions). Members of National Commissions are appointed for a term of three years. The newly elected National Commander appoints two National Commission members each year. The National Commander appoints members of National Committees for a one-year term. All appointments require the consent of the N.E.C.

Detachments

Generally speaking, all Squadrons within a state's boundaries comprise the Detachment Organization. A Detachment is organized and operates under the supervision of the American Legion Department Organization in that state. Detachments elect State officers and delegates to the Annual National Convention of the S.A.L. and are entitled to representation on the S.A.L. National Executive Committee. Detachments establish their own per capita dues rates, write their own constitution and by-laws and are the body with authority to approve their constitution and by-laws written at the intermediate and squadron levels. The Detachment Organization is primarily responsible for promoting National programs within that state, communicating information to Squadrons within that state, and expanding S.A.L. membership in the state. The Detachment has the power to suspend or cancel Squadron Charters for violation of the Detachment or National Constitution & By Laws. The Legislative Body of the Detachment is the Annual Detachment Convention, and each Squadron is entitled to participate in the meeting. The number of delegate votes allotted each squadron is determined by the squadron's paid membership for the current membership year.

Intermediate Bodies

Detachments employ intermediate organizational bodies, which group squadrons into geographic regions. Often referred to as Districts, Areas, Counties, Sectors, Zones or other names, intermediate bodies are created by the Detachment, elect their own officers, write their own constitution and by-laws and exist to coordinate efforts and communications between the Detachment and its squadrons.

Squadrons

The grass roots unit of the Sons of The American Legion is a Squadron. Currently, there are more than 5100 Squadrons throughout the United States, and in four outlying Detachments in foreign countries. There may be only one Squadron attached to any American Legion Post. A Squadron Charter (legal authority to exist and operate as part of the organization) is issued by the National Organization, upon request of the sponsoring Post, with the approval of that respective Department Organization of the Legion. Squadrons may establish their own by-laws, provided they are not in conflict with the S.A.L. National Constitution and By-Laws or Detachment by-laws. AU membership in the Sons of The American Legion exists through membership in a particular squadron. Eligible applicants may join any squadron, regardless of the location of their Legion parents' membership. Only a squadron may admit and/or expel members from the Sons of The American Legion. All members must meet eligibility requirements. There are no honorary members permitted in the S.A.L. or in The American Legion.

SQUADRON OFFICERS AND DUTIES

Squadron Commander - This individual is entrusted with the important duty of teaching and protecting the cardinal principles of the Sons of The American Legion and the supervision of duties of all other officers of the squadron. He is guided by the squadron constitution and by the decision of the squadron as a body. Yet, responsibility for the squadron's success rests largely upon his shoulders.

Accomplishments of squadron depend greatly upon the leadership abilities of the commander. During his term in office, the commander presides over squadron meetings and makes every effort to see that meetings are conducted properly. A recommended order of business and the ceremonial ritual for the opening and closing of a squadron meeting are outlined elsewhere in this handbook.

First Vice Commander - The responsibilities of this office are devoted largely to the membership enrollment activities of the squadron and other duties as assigned by the Commander. There is nothing more important to the life and blood of the squadron than the membership. The First Vice Commander should be willing and able to fill in for the Squadron Commander if the need arises.

Second Vice Commander - The responsibilities of this office are concerned primarily with patriotic observances, the development of squadron activities, and planning entertainment and social features that may be scheduled in conjunction with squadron meetings.

Adjutant - This officer is the secretary of the squadron, maintaining contact with individual squadron members and higher levels of the organization, keeping squadron records, and publishing any necessary orders, announcements, and instructions.

Finance Officer - This officer has the responsibility of receiving squadron moneys and paying all squadron bills when the Squadron Commander, and/or the Post Officials have given authorization for payment. The Finance Officer should have financial reports ready for every Squadron meeting.

Chaplain - This officer is responsible for the spiritual leadership of the squadron. In addition to attending all meetings, he should be ready upon occasion to take part in the initiation of new members, dedication ceremonies, and the funeral services of a comrade. His opening and closing prayers should be in tune with the type of meeting being attended. The Chaplain needs to be aware of the sick and injured members of the Squadron and take it upon himself to send the appropriate cards or well wishes.

Historian - This officer maintains a current record of the activities of the squadron as a mean of continuing a historical account of its endeavors over the years. The Historian should start a scrapbook, take pictures, send articles to newspapers, and become the public relations persons of the squadron.

Sergeant-at-Arms - This officer is the sentinel or outer guard of the squadron. In addition to being the custodian of the flag and squadron standards, he should be ready at all times to assist the Squadron Commander. During meetings, he is the eyes and ears for the Commander, keeping the flow of traffic to a minimum during meeting and announcing and escorting any guests to the speakers table.

THE S.A.L. COVER AND UNIFORM

The S.A.L. cap, sometimes referred to as a member's cover, should be worn at all S.A.L. and Legion Family functions. Different colored caps, or covers, denote different administrative levels throughout the Sons:

Squadron member or officer - French blue with red, white and blue piping

Detachment officer - French blue with piping and gold top

National officer - Solid gold with piping

A member of the Sons of The American Legion wearing the cap should render and respond to salutes and conduct himself in the same manner as he would if he were wearing a military uniform. If not wearing the S.A.L. cap, the ordinary rules of etiquette for civilian dress should be observed. (The proper salute to the Flag in civilian clothes is to remove one's hat and hold it at the left shoulder, with right hand over the heart.)

The S.A.L. cap is not to be worn during meals or while eating, or while consuming alcoholic beverages.

Members of a Squadron Honor Guard should wear the S.A.L. cap in a place of worship while in marching order or standing guard. S.A.L. members not in formation will uncover upon entering the place of worship and remain uncovered during the entire service and re-cover after leaving the place of worship.

An official uniform for members of the S.A.L. was adopted in 1963. For several decades, Sons were encouraged to attend official functions dressed in a French blue blazer with S.A.L. emblem embroidered on the chest pocket, dark blue trousers, dark blue tie, white shirt and black shoes. Many members continue to wear this prescribed outfit. However, specific fashions rarely stand the test of time and members are now encouraged to wear clothing appropriate to the function or event they are attending.

SUGGESTIONS FOR SQUADRON ORGANIZATION

Part One – Preparation

The committee that undertakes the organization of a squadron must first carefully study the aims and purposes of the organization as set forth in the Preamble to the Constitution and the ritualistic work. The entire procedure of organization should be placed in the hands of this committee and the Post should pledge its active support to the work of the committee.

Following a careful study of plans for organization of the squadron, the first step should be the compilation of a complete list of eligible members. Department Headquarters will furnish individual application blanks and applications for charter on request from any American Legion Post in the Department. There is only one form of charter, and there is no fee charged in connection with its issuance. A Post cannot sponsor more than one squadron of the Sons of The American Legion.

When the list of eligible candidates has been completed, each applicant will be given an individual application for membership in duplicate (the form is one copy). The Adjutant of The American Legion Post sponsoring the squadron will certify the eligibility of each applicant. One copy of the application should remain with the Post Adjutant for record and one copy accompanies the application for squadron charter to Department Headquarters of The American Legion.

Part Two – Organization

A letter of invitation to the meeting should be addressed and mail to each eligible Son. Both, the Post Commander and the chairman of the Post Sons of The American Legion Committee should sign the letter. Many squadrons have been formed as the result of holding a father/son banquet in connection with the organization meeting.

Believing that the future of an organization is often determined by the original meeting, it is suggested that the first or preliminary meeting be planned with careful thought. There should be particular emphasis placed on the responsibility of membership, opportunity for service, and pride in being eligible to carry on the ideals and programs of The American Legion, the world's largest veterans' organization.

It should be stressed that the Sons of The American Legion is a part of The American Legion, but responsibility for the success or failure of the squadron rests with the squadron membership. They should be told of the regalia and insignia available to members. If possible, it is well to arrange a short entertainment program for the meeting. Keep in mind at all times that the program must be presented for what it is - a program of staunch Americanism.

Following the organization meeting, plans should be carefully made for the initiation. An invitation to the public may be made through adequate newspaper publicity as well as through special invitations to the initiate and members of his family. Every son of a Legionnaire should be given the opportunity to join and should be urged to do so. Notice should be sent to each Post member, urging attendance at the initiation meeting.

SUGGESTED PROGRAMS AND ACTIVITIES

Since eligibility in the Sons begins from date of birth, activities and programs of any squadron should be determined by: 1) age groupings of those eligible; 2) apparent needs of the eligible; 3) needs of the community for the programs and activities which could be provided by the S.A.L.; and 4) capabilities of those serving as leaders and advisors.

Just as each Legion Post determines the extent of its services to the community, state and nation, so each squadron is permitted flexibility in planning programs and activities to meet the needs of its own age groups.

Major Activity Areas

Color Guards - The type of uniformed group for any particular squadron depends upon such factors as the size of the squadron, the age span of the members, and the interests and needs of the community. Once established, a uniformed group can be a source of pride for both the squadron and its sponsoring Post. Such a group should be a willing participant in patriotic holiday observances and other worthy civic functions, not only to help expand the sponsoring Post's representation at such events, but, also, to develop within the Squadron an awareness of its purpose "to foster and perpetuate a true spirit of Americanism." S.A.L. Color Guards are eligible to participate in the American Legion's National Color Guard Competition, held each year at the National Convention. The S.A.L. Color Guard receiving the highest score in the competition is named the S.A.L. National Color Guard Champion, receiving a plaque, Championship Guidon, and cash award.

Volunteers - There is perhaps no activity in which a Son may participate that will reward him with more satisfaction than having performed a valuable service as a volunteer hospital worker within the program of the Veterans Administration Voluntary Service (VAVS). There is a constant need for these volunteer hospital workers. S.A.L. members serving as VAVS volunteers should register with the Chief of Volunteer Services at the nearest VA Hospital or Facility. All S.A.L. volunteers' service hours should be recorded and reported annually as part of the Squadron's Veterans Rehabilitation Report.

Boys State - American Legion Boys State is a leadership action program where qualified male high school juniors take part in a practical course designed to develop a working knowledge of the structure of government, from the township to the state level. Students "wishing to attend Boys State must be sponsored by one of The American Legion Family organizations. Boys State is conducted in every State except Hawaii and is fashioned after the government structure of each respective state, with similar political offices and agencies. Each Boys State program operates under a two party system with instruction provided in the organization and operation of political parties at different levels of government. Eligible S.A.L. members are encouraged to attend Boys State through sponsorship of their local Post, Squadron or Unit. For more information, contact your Post Adjutant or Department Headquarters.

Legion Baseball – American Legion Baseball was established in 1925 for the purpose of developing team discipline, individual character, and leadership qualities in young people. Legion Baseball is the oldest and largest nationwide baseball program in America. More than 4000 Legion baseball teams play each year, comprised of nearly 90,000 players, ages 15 to 18. More than half of the Major League Baseball players got their start in Legion Baseball as teenagers. S.A.L. members interested in playing, or S.A.L. squadrons interested in sponsoring a Legion Baseball team, should contact Department Headquarters for more information.

High School Oratorical Contest - The American Legion National High School Oratorical Contest is designed to develop a deeper appreciation of the U.S. Constitution in high school students. U.S. citizens or lawful permanent residents of the U.S. are eligible to participate in the program. Participants are required to deliver a prepared oration on some phase of the U.S. Constitution. Students participating in local Oratorical Contests sponsored by one or more Legion Posts, advance through qualification to the Department (state) level then to the National Contest. Scholarships are awarded to each Department (state) winner and to the three finalists in the National contest. S.A.L. members interested in participating should contact their Department Headquarters for more information.

Junior Shooting Sports - Many local Posts and squadrons sponsor Junior Shooting Clubs and provide training in gun safety and marksmanship for student's ages 14 through 20. The American Legion Junior Position Air Rifle Tournament is an annual competition that begins with Post- level matches to determine state and regional champions. The top 30 competitors, as well as the state and regional champions compete in the Qualification Round, also a Post-level match. The Qualification Round determines the top 12 shooters in both the Precision and Sporter categories, who will compete in the National Championship, held annually at the U.S. Olympic Training Center in Colorado. To inquire about sponsoring a Shooting Club or participating in the Tournament, contact the Program Coordinator, American Legion Junior Shooting Sports, National Headquarters, and P.O. BOX 1055, INDIANAPOLIS, IN 46206. Child Welfare Foundation - Formed in 1954, the American Legion Child Welfare Foundation Inc. (CWF) provides financial assistance to other non-profit organizations involved in national public education programs about the care of children. Since 1955, the Foundation has awarded nearly $5,000,000.00 in grants to assist America's children. All contributions to the Foundation are tax deductible. The vast majority of all contributions to the CWF come from members of The American Legion, S.A.L., Auxiliary, and 8 & 40.

Crime Prevention/Child Safety - The American Legion and McGruff the Crime Dog® are working together to help your local post, Auxiliary or Squadron make the community and it's children safer. The National Crime Prevention Council, home of McGruff, has approved a McGruff Safe Kids Identification Kit-The American Legion Edition that can be the basis for a great family outreach in your community. Designed to help parents communicate with children ages 4 to 12, the program can be purchased by your Legion Post at special rates and passed out at key locations throughout the community or at special events. McGruff Safe Kids Identification Kit, P.O. Box 931, Wayzata, MN 55391, Tel: 1-800-288-3344 Fax: 612-473-7123.

Blood Donor - Many S.A.L. squadrons sponsor blood donor drives in conjunction with their Post and Local American Red Cross chapters. Contact your local chapter of the Red Cross to see if you can get involved in sponsoring an event, or try bringing your Squadron members to the next drive in your community.

Fund raising is a major activity for any Squadron. Many Squadrons sponsor steak fries, fish fries, raffles, car washes, and many other activities to raise money for their favorite projects. With the help of the Post, a squadron can also increase revenue by holding their event at the Post. Throughout the year the Squadron can expand their community involvement by participating in the following: Adopt-A-Highway Program, Sponsor a High School Student to Girls or Boys State, Give away a scholarship to a local graduating High School Senior, cutting grass at a local veterans cemetery, and many others.

SUGGESTED PROGRAMS THROUGHOUT THE YEAR

Patriotic Holiday Observance

The observance of major holidays and other appropriate patriotic occasions should be considered a major activity of any Squadron. On June 28, 1968, the 90th Congress enacted and the President signed Public Law 90-363, mandating that certain legal public holidays fall on Monday. This law went into effect on Jan. 1, 1971. The following are legal public holidays: New Year's Day, January 1., Martin Luther King Day, the third Monday in January, Washington's Birthday, the third Monday in February, Memorial Day, the latest Monday in May, Independence Day, July 4., Labor Day, the first Monday in September. Columbus Day, the second Monday in October. Veterans Day, November 11. Thanksgiving Day, the fourth Thursday in November. Christmas Day, December 25.

January - A formal initiation meeting should be planned during January. Appropriate entertainment and short speeches should precede the initiation ritual. Invite public officials, local civic leaders, American Legion dignitaries and members of the sponsoring post to attend. Study emphasis during the month should be devoted to "Citizenship" as required for point number 2 of the Five-Star Program. February - Through the observance of the birthdays of two great presidents this month, it is an appropriate time for a study of "Patriotism" and "Discipline" in both the Ten Ideals and Five-Star Programs. Squadron members who are high school juniors should sign up to participate in The Boys State program in early summer. Squadrons should begin recruiting candidates from local high schools for squadron sponsorship to Boys State.

March - This is the birthday month of The American Legion and an appropriate time to study "Legionism" covering such items as the organization and histories of The American Legion Family organizations, their national programs and local community service projects, as well as the Preamble of the S.A.L. Constitution. Squadron members should participate in the local Post's observance of the Legion Birthday, March 15- 17.

April - The program of study for this month should emphasize "Leadership" as required for point number 4 of the Five-Star Program of Service. Also, those S.A.L. members participating in the Ten Ideals Program should be using this time toward the successful completion of the ideals of "Courtesy" and "Reverence."

May - The squadron should be an active participant in its sponsoring Post's Memorial Day ceremonies. Members of the squadron should assist the Post in decorating the graves of veterans. Study emphasis this month should be given to "Patriotism" in both the Ten Ideals and Five-Star Programs, "Citizenship" in the Ten Ideals Program, and "Citizenship" and "Leadership" in the Five-Star Program of Service.

June - June 14 is Flag Day. The squadron should assist its sponsoring post whenever and wherever possible in the promotion of Flag display in the community.

July - Squadrons should cooperate with the sponsoring Post in observance of Independence Day, July 4.

August - The month will be devoted mainly to outdoor activities and athletics. S.A.L. members participating in the Ten Ideals Program may wish to show their proficiency in portions of the ideals of "Health" and "Training." Installation of squadron officers in many areas will take place during August. Squadrons should be aware that there is the publication "Need A Lift" that lists grants and scholarships for local high schools graduates.

September - With the opening of a new school year, the squadron should turn its attention to occupations. Guest speakers may be invited to visit the squadron meetings to tell about the various occupations in which the S.A.L. members may be interested.

October - Squadrons may participate in the annual observance of American Education Week, during this month. Squadrons may purchase and distribute copies of the Legion's "Need A Lift?" Catalog to local high schools. In addition, this month is particularly suited to Squadron sponsorship of a "Get Out The Vote" voter registration program in the local community.

November - Veterans Day Observances: Squadrons should observe Veterans Day with appropriate ceremonies and through participation in the observances as planned by the sponsoring post. Study program during this month should emphasize Legionism with proper instruction provided by informed Legionnaires.

December - The squadron can be of valuable assistance to its sponsoring post in the performance of such services as distribution of Christmas baskets to needy families, helping in any seasonal charity fund raising drive, etc. Many posts plan special visitations to hospitalized veterans at this time.

Continuous years membership cards are available in five-year increments from five to sixty years. These cards should be ordered by Squadrons (without cost) from the Detachment or Department Adjutant.

ADULT LEADERSHIP

It is of paramount importance on the part of the sponsoring Post that extreme care be exercised in the selection of adult supervisory leadership for the squadron. Legionnaires selected for the post's S.A.L. Advisory Committee must have a knowledge and understanding of this program and the initiative and determination to see that the program is perpetuated. S.A.L. activities must be stressed which will help to develop worthwhile American citizens with the strength and courage to face the responsibilities and challenges of life in an increasingly complex world.

It cannot be overemphasized that the establishment of a squadron of the S.A.L. or the development of any squadron programs should not be accomplished with the intent of competing with or luring members from worthwhile organizations already existing and active in the community. Membership and active participation in the S.A.L. should serve the purpose of complementing other existing worthy programs and should serve as an enhancement of the individual S.A.L. member in both his scholastic, professional, and extracurricular endeavors.

Care must be taken to permit the members to develop and use their own initiative and ideas in working out the details of all activities. Legionnaires on the Advisory Committee should serve primarily as counselors for the leadership of the squadron. The suggested program of activities outlined in this handbook are intended to help develop good character, sound judgments, and essential leadership skills for active S.A.L. members.

As the S.A.L. member becomes older, his experience and talent should be utilized in leadership and counseling capacities within the squadron. The S.A.L. member who has completed the Ten Ideals and Five-Point Programs can be of valuable service to the squadron in counseling younger members still striving for such honors. Older S.A.L. members who have had Boys State experience can provide a junior counselor service, where necessary, to The American Legion in its sponsorship of this annual program.

Discipline/Expulsion

The Constitution of the Sons of The American Legion Constitution states:

"Article XI Section 1. A Detachment Headquarters may suspend, cancel or revoke the charter of any Squadron of the Sons of The American Legion over which it has jurisdiction in the event it violates the provisions of this Constitution, subject, however, to the approval of the Department Executive Committee of The American Legion Department in which the Squadron and Detachment are geographically situated."

Section 2. Upon the cancellation or revocation of the charter of any Squadron of the Sons of The American Legion, the property and assets belonging to such Squadron shall thereupon become the property of the Post of The American Legion to which the Squadron is attached."

Individual members of the Sons may only be expelled from the organization at the Squadron level upon a proper showing of cause. Not all Detachments or Squadrons have adopted specific methods of practice and procedure for the suspension or expulsion of a member. In the absence of such procedures, The American Legion Officers' Manual contains one recommended method. In essence, the procedures outlined in the Officers' Manual sets out a procedure which requires charges against any individual must be made under oath in writing, requires a fair trial for the accused, and provides appropriate channels through which to appeal an unfavorable decision.

Bless the American Legion and the Sons of The American Legion and those who are about to loyalty, our Country and our God. Amen."

Chaplain returns to his position. Membership is seated by one rap of the gavel and the Commander then addresses the candidates.

COMMANDER: "The Sons of the American Legion was formed, and is maintained, solely for the purpose of inculcating the male descendants of veterans of the Great Wars, with the ideals and principles for which The American Legion was founded; therefore, our sole aim, ideal and purpose is to teach and put into practice the principles which The American Legion cherishes, namely JUSTICE, FREEDOM, DEMOCRACY AND LOYALTY.

Sergeant-at-Arms, conduct the candidates to the First Vice Commander for instruction." Sergeant-at-Arms conducts the candidates in single file to the First Vice Commander's station and faces them toward and in front of him.

FIRST VICE COMMANDER: "Justice - The American Legion teaches that Justice is one of the noblest concepts of the human heart. True Justice makes no distinction of persons. It recognizes neither high nor low, rich nor poor, the classes nor the masses. It knows neither race nor creed. Justice lights the way of friends and comrades. To the sick and the disabled, to the widows and orphans of those who gave their lives that we might live, The American Legion has solemnly pledged that Justice shall prevail. Justice is stern, yet kind; Justice is not weak, but merciful. Justice views all opinions impartially, without anger, without malice. Foster with all of your energy a spirit of Justice in the affairs of this organization, and in your everyday life. Let no one be unjust to his fellow member within this organization, or upon the broad highways of life.

I present to you a copy of the Constitution of the United States of America. (A copy is handed to each candidate.)

"Sergeant-at-Arms, conduct the candidates to the Post Commander for further instruction."

(Candidates are brought to designated position, in front of and facing Past Commander.)

SERGEANT-AT-ARMS: "Sir, I present these candidates for instruction in Freedom."

PAST COMMANDER: "Freedom is, among the fights of mankind, the one held most dear. Freedom is an ideal of surpassing strength, for which men throughout the ages have willingly fought and died."

In the War of the Revolution, Freedom was won for the people of the United States. In all wars, Freedom was the torch that led the defenders of the world through the wilderness of the conflict

You must guard well the Freedom of this organization. You must keep the Sons of The American Legion a free organization of free men, ever faithful to the ideals that Above all, you must prevent anything being done to prejudice the Freedom of the people of the United States, whose very foundation is the rock of liberty.

By your appreciation of Freedom through citizenship, you will cause to be reechoed the clarion sound of our Liberty Bell throughout our Nation forever.

I give you the emblem of Freedom, an American Flag.

(Past Commander hands each candidate a small American Flag.)

PAST COMMANDER: "Sergeant-at-Arms, conduct the candidates to the Second Vice Commander, who will instruct them in Democracy."

(The Sergeant-at-Arms conducts candidates to the Second Vice Commander for further instruction. They are brought to designated position, in front of and facing Second Vice Commander.)

SECOND VICE COMMANDER: "Democracy as exemplified in the United States of America is the highest form of government of which the mind of man is capable. It must be maintained and preserved at all hazards by the Sons of The American Legion. Democracy is government of the people, by the people, and for the people. Democracy is distinctly American in principle. It extends a voice in the government to every citizen, and all partake of its benefits."

To The American Legion, Democracy is concrete and actual. It is expressed in their meeting halls, where no distinction of rank is recognized, but where all are equal by virtue of a common service and a common ideal. I charge you ever to maintain that spirit of equality, in the meeting halls of the Sons of The American Legion and in your daily lives, which is a manifestation of Democracy. Permit every member a free voice, but no voice so free as to transcend the limits of Liberty. Seek to prove in all things that all are born equal with certain inalienable rights, and that a nation dedicated to this proposition shall endure forever. We, as the Sons of The American Legion, adhere to this great principle with unswerving loyalty.

I give you the emblem of the Sons of The American Legion, which is also the emblem of Democracy."

SECOND VICE COMMANDER: "Sergeant-at-Arms, conduct the candidates to the Commander who will instruct them in Loyalty."

(The Sergeant-at-Arms conducts candidates to the Commander for further instruction. They are brought to designated position, in front of and facing the Commander.)

COMMANDER: "Loyalty is the corner stone of our organization. It is as dear as Justice is desirable, as Freedom is glorious, as Democracy is practical. The most despised of all men is the traitor. He who gives aid or comfort to the enemy behind the lines, or he who gives information to the enemy, endangers the lives of his comrades and his country's cause.

"Loyalty is one of the first requisites of a citizen. The Sons of The American Legion, it will cause us to defend our organization in all that is right, and to use our every power to keep it in the right. You must ever see that the officers of this organization are loyal to their duties; that the members are loyal to the Sons of The American Legion; that the Sons of The American Legion is loyal to its principles and that our United States is every loyal to itself. You must understand, by this time, that the Sons of The American Legion is in no sense a military or a political organization. Composed, as it is, of members of every race and creed, it is obligated to strict neutrality of every question concerning a religion and politics.

You have heard its four great principles - Justice, Freedom, Democracy and Loyalty. Are you now ready and willing to obligate yourselves to its pledge of membership?"

CANDIDATES: "I am."

(Chaplain comes forward and addresses the candidates:)

CHAPLAIN: "You will repeat after me, I (giving your names), do solemnly pledge myself to carry out the aims purposes and ideals of the Sons of the American Legion to the best of my ability, and I do further solemnly pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one nation under God, Indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

(At the conclusion of the obligation, all lights except that in the emblem of the Sons of the American Legion are extinguished by someone stationed by the Sergeant-at-Arms for that purpose. Gavel is rapped three times by Commander, bringing all members to their feet. For ten seconds silence is observed and without any cue the Chaplain speaks, saying:)

CHAPLAIN: "There shines the emblem of the Sons of The American Legion. It is your badge of distinction, honor and duty. Just as the badge of The American Legion, it stands for God and Country, and the highest rights of man. It consists of several parts and each part has a meaning. The general design is that of our parent organization, but is oval in shape so as to be easily distinguished."

(The Commander then addresses the membership, saying:)

COMMANDER: "The emblems of The American Legion and the Sons of The American Legion are emblems of Americanism. Americanism is unity of love, singleness of allegiance, practicality of purpose, all directed to a common good. It is that spirit of patriotism which shall ever preserve our land from the stagnation which is the death of peoples."

As members of the Sons of The American Legion we must preach and teach the religion of patriotism throughout our daily lives. We must not forget our obligations as citizens, and we must continually strive to strengthen and retain those obligations. In the emblems of The American Legion and the Sons of The American Legion are great prophecies. They bespeak the fullest good for each in the betterment of all. They bespeak the promise of the defenders of the Republic. They exemplify the ideals for which they fought. We, as loyal members of the Sons of The American Legion must assist in the carrying out of those ideals."

(The lights of the meeting hall are again lighted.)

(At the sound of the gavel the membership is seated.)

COMMANDER: "I now welcome you into the Sons of The American Legion as a member in good standing. May you, by your every act and deed, carry on the purposes set forth in the Preamble to the Constitution of this organization with credit to yourselves, your organization and The American Legion. Always, in all ways, be a man; always, in all ways, be an American!"

Sergeant-at-Arms, conduct the newly initiated members of _____ Squadron No _____, to the Adjutant, where they will sign their names to the membership roll and take their places amongst their comrades."

(The Sergeant-at-Arms executes the above command and after the last member is seated returns to his station.)

(If the ritualistic ceremony has been performed in a meeting other than in its own squadron meeting place, the Commander may introduce the members of the team following the introduction, the command is given. "Assemble Team," and Sergeant-at-Arms will escort team from the room. This procedure may vary according to conditions and is not a mandatory part of the procedure.

You will at once familiarize yourselves with the duties of your particular offices and you will proceed upon those duties in the same spirit of devotion and endeavor that characterized your fathers' service in any of the Great Was, out of which came their basis for membership in The American Legion and your own in the Sons of The American Legion.

"You must know that the welfare and success of this squadron depends largely on you; and you must know also that upon your shoulders equally rests the burden of preserving the integrity of the Sons of The American Legion. You must protect and advance its good name before the people of this community, the state and the nation. You must exalt it in their eyes. You must make them know, as we know its purposes and its policy. Ever remember the tolerant spirit that animates its members. There is no rank among us, for each serves as the equal of his comrade; and all strive toward the same goal, which is the realization in the life of the Republic of the ideals of Justice, Freedom, Democracy and Loyalty. Ever remember that the cardinal purposes of the Sons of The American Legion are the care of the dependents of those who have answered the final call and of those who are now suffering from disease and want; rightful education of the children of our country, and devoted service to the community, state and nation."

"You will raise your right hand and repeat after me, giving your names: "I, _____ do solemnly pledge myself to perform faithfully and impartially the duties of the office in the Sons of The American Legion I am about to assume, and "I further pledge I am not a member of, and do not subscribe to, the principles of any groups opposed to our form of government."

After the obligation of the new officers, the installing officer will address the Sergeant-at-Arms.

INSTALLING OFFICER: "Sergeant-at-Arms, you will conduct the new officers to their respective stations."

The Acting or Retiring Sergeant-at Arms escorts each officer-elect to his respective station, starting with the elected Sergeant-at-Arms and ending with the Commander. The Sergeant-at-Arms will conduct the Sergeant-at-Arms-elect to the station of the Sergeant-at-Arms, and when arrived at that station will address the elected Sergeant-at-Arms as follows:

"You are the sentinel or outer guard of this, squadron. Be strict in demanding any stranger's passport or membership card. Be ready at all times to assist your Commander."

"You are the custodian of the Flag of our country and of the squadron's standards." The acting or retiring Sergeant-at-Arms the Acting Historian then charges him. Escorts the Historian to the right of the Commander.

ACTING HISTORIAN: "Historian, to you is entrusted the recording of all current records of this squadron. The collection of records of your fathers post of The American Legion is of historical value, and the keeping of a record of squadron activities will, through you, become of priceless heritage to future generations."

Sergeant-at-Arms next conducts the Chaplain to a position between the Commander and the Historian. The Acting Chaplain then charges him.

ACTING CHAPLAIN: "Chaplain, to you is given the spiritual leadership of this squadron. You will, I know, lend dignity and respect to your office. You should be in close confidence with the Commander and the other officers of this squadron, and should attend all meetings of the squadron. You should be ready upon occasion to take your part in the initiation of new members, the dedication of halls, monuments or colors, and the funeral services for a comrade."

Sergeant-at-Arms next conducts the Finance Officer to the Adjutant's desk, where Acting Finance Officer gives the following charge:

ACTING FINANCE OFFICER: "Finance Officer, you are the keeper of the moneys and in you is reposed the financial policy of the squadron. To you is given charge of the year's budget, and to you is given the duty of the payment of all obligations when proper authorization has been for such payment. Your position is an important one, demanding integrity and honesty; your election to this office signifies that comrades have implicit trust in you. Guard well that trust."

Sergeant-at-Arms next conducts the Adjutant to his desk and the Acting Adjutant charges him as follows:

ACTING ADJUTANT: "Adjutant, you have been chosen to assist your Commander in the wise and effective administration of his office. You will find your duties many and varied; the successful accomplishment of a well-rounded program depends to a great extent upon you. Keep an intimate contact with the members of your squadron and maintain the principle of Democracy."

Sergeant-at-Arms next conducts the Second Vice Commander to his state at the left center of the meeting hall, where the Acting Second Vice Commander charges him as follows:

ACTING SECOND VICE COMMANDER: "Vice Commander, into your helpful hands are placed the important responsibilities of assisting the Commander in all of his duties. Particularly should you be interested in patriotic observances of all kinds, in developing squadron activities and in the entertainment features, which mark all meetings. Help to observe strict tolerance among your members on all political, religious and industrial matters. You are the teacher of Freedom."

Sergeant-at-Arms next conducts the First Vice Commander to his position, where he will be charged by the Acting First Vice Commander as follows:

ACTING FIRST VICE COMMANDER: "Vice Commander, to you are given the responsibility of an active cooperation between yourself and the Commander. Particularly you should interest yourself in the membership of the squadron. The most active and devoted members should assist you. No single factor has so important an influence on the squadron's success as membership. You are the teacher of Justice."

INSTALLING OFFICER (to retiring Commander): "Your duties as Commander of this squadron have been completed; yours has been a year marked with earnest endeavor and success to a satisfying degree; yours has been a great privilege and a rich experience. The American Legion and the Sons of The American Legion have observed your faithful and untiring efforts and extend to you their sincere appreciation of the services, which you have rendered. Sergeant-Arms, you will conduct the junior Past Commander to his post, opposite this station."

Sergeant-at-Arms conducts the new Commander to the installing officer, who in turn, brings the entire squadron to its feet by three raps of the gavel, then charges the new Commander as follows:

INSTALLING OFFICER: "Commander, to you is entrusted a very sacred duty - that of the teaching and protecting the cardinal principles of the Sons of The American Legion throughout your entire squadron. To you is entrusted supervision of the duties of all other officers of the squadron. To you will come the indigent and the distressed and it is your duty to see that no worthy comrade is turned away without justice. It is your duty to see that Freedom is ever the watchword of those with whom you may come in contact. Loyalty to your squadron, to its membership, to The American Legion, is requirements, which you now assume. You are more than the presiding officer for meetings. You are guided by the constitution and by the decision of the squadron as a body, yet the responsibility for failure or success of the year's program is largely on your shoulders. You must initiate and carry programs through to completion. You must thoroughly familiarize yourself with the policies and traditions of your squadron and of the Sons of The American Legion. To you I extend the congratulations of The American Legion, and I wish you well as you assume the responsibilities of your office."

Installing officer then addresses the entire membership as follows:

INSTALLING OFFICER: "I present to you the officers of your choice. I congratulate you on the selections you have made. Now that you have chosen them to guide the destinies of this squadron, it is your duty to aid them in every way. Help them keep the Sons of The American Legion a free organization of free men, faithful to its principles and ideals."

He hands the gavel to the new Commander and the installing officer takes a seat. Commander-elect then seats the members by one rap of the gavel.

(Squadron Adjutant begins procedure to put S.A.L. Emblem on Headstone Marker)

The proper procedure for having the Emblem of the Sons of The American Legion placed on the headstone grave marker of a deceased Son of The American Legion member begins with the Post Adjutant. It is the responsibility of the Post Adjutant to obtain the proper information from the relatives of the deceased. That information consists of:

- 1) Full name and membership verification; and
- 2) Name and address of manufacturer of grave marker.

This information should then be transmitted to your Department Adjutant who will verify the information and request approval of the National Adjutant for the use of the Emblem.

The National Adjutant then authorizes the manufacturer onetime use of the name and Emblem of the Sons of The American Legion on the specific grave maker.

Permission also may be obtained to use the Emblem of the Sons of The American Legion on grave markers on a pre-need basis. All requests are handled individually, but only through the Department Adjutant's office and to the Sons of The American Legion members with at least 20 years consecutive membership, only on a pre-need basis.

Post Adjutants can save a lot of time, confusion and needless correspondence by making sure these procedures are followed. 7. New business and correspondence.

DEDICATION OF COLORS

SQUADRON COMMANDER: "The assembly will stand at attention."

The Sergeant-at-Arms will call the Color Guard to display the colors.

Colors will be advanced from the rear of the hall to a position on the stage or platform and placed in their proper position. The trumpeter will sound "To the Colors" or "The Star-Spangled Banner" will be played.

POST CHARM4AN OR COMMANDER - (Introduction of Legionnaire or individual making the presentation.)

SPEAKER: "In the name of _____ Squadron, No. _____, Detachment of _____ the Sons of The American Legion, I now dedicate these Colors. May they fly perpetually as the emblem of the cause for which the members of The American Legion fought and for which you are associated together in the Sons of The American Legion. Here is the Flag of our Country; safe within its fold is the freedom and the loyalty of our Nation. Beside it is the flag of the Sons of The American Legion; on its expanse the emblem of that organization - that star of hope, the laurel wreath of victory, about it all the sun' s rays, significant of the light of an ever brighter day."

"I dedicate these Colors to the purposes of your squadron, community, state and nation, and with them I dedicate this squadron to the faithful service to our Nation, the ideals and purposes of The American Legion, our people and our Flag. Legion Sons, you will join me in saluting the Flag, YOUR Flag."

DISPOSAL OF UNSERVICEABLE FLAGS

This is a very desirable ceremony to present as part of a Flag Day observance. The Squadron assembles in meeting, out-of-doors, at night. Members are aligned in two parallel rows about twenty feet apart, facing each other. Officers at their stations as shown. A small fire is burning opposite the Commander and beyond the rows of members. Diagram of arrangements appears below.

Sergeant-at-Arms: "Comrade Commander, we wish to present a number of unserviceable flags of our Country for inspection and disposal."

Commander: "Comrade Sergeant-at-Arms advance with your detail and present the Flags for disposal and inspection."

Sergeant-at-Arms calls his detail to attention. They form at the Post of the Sergeant-at-Arms, take the Flags which are to be inspected, march abreast down center until opposite the Second Vice-Commander, turn right and halt two paces in front of the Second Vice-Commander. The Sergeant-at-Arms steps one pace forward and salutes.

Sergeant-at-Arms: "Comrade Vice Commander, we present these unserviceable Flags for your inspection."

The Sergeant-at-Arms salutes, about faces, commands the detail, "About Face," crosses behind the detail and takes his post at its left, commands "Forward March." The detail marches to within two paces of the First Vice-Commander, halts and proceeds as before

Sergeant-at-Arms: "Comrade Vice Commander, we present these Flags which have been inspected by the Second Vice Commander, for your further inspection."

First Vice-Commander: "Have any of these Flags served any other purpose"

Sergeant-at-Arms: "Some of these Flags have been displayed in various public places."

First Vice-Commander, "Present them to the Commander for final inspection and fitting disposal."

The Sergeant-at-Arms salutes, about faces, command the detail "About Face," crosses behind the detail and takes position on its left, commands "Forward March." The detail marches to center, turns left, halts within two paces of the Commander, Sergeant-at-Arms steps one pace forward and salutes.

Sergeant-at-Arms: "Comrade Commander, we have the honor to present for final inspection and proper disposal these Flags of our Country."

Commander: "Have these Flags been inspected by the First and Second Vice Commanders?"

Sergeant-at-Arms: "They have."

Commander: "Comrade Second Vice Commander, what does your inspection show and what do you recommend?"

Second Vice-Commander: "Comrade Commander, since Flags have become unserviceable in a worthy cause, I recommend that they be honorably retired from further service."

Commander: "Comrade First Vice Commander, what does your inspection show and what do you recommend?"

First Vice-Commander: "Comrade Commander, since Flags have become unserviceable in a worthy cause, I recommend that they be honorably retired from further service."
Commander: "Comrade First Vice Commander, what does your inspection show and what do you recommend?"

First Vice- Commander: "Comrade Commander, since these Flags have become faded and worn in a tribute of service and love, I also recommend that they be fittingly destroyed."

Commander: "Comrades, we have presented here these Flags of our Country which have been inspected and condemned as unserviceable. They have reached their present state in a proper service of tribute, memory and love."

"A Flag may be a flimsy bit of printed gauze, or a beautiful banner of finest silk. Its intrinsic value may be trifling or great; but its real value is beyond price, for it is a previous symbol of all that we and our comrades have worked for and lived for, and died for - a free nation of free men, true to the faith of the past, devoted to the ideals and practice of Justice, Freedom and Democracy.

"Let these faded Flags of our Country be retired and destroyed with respectful and honorable rites and their places be taken by bright new Flags of the same size and kind, and let no grave of our soldier or sailor dead be unhonored and unmarked. Sergeant-at- Arms, assemble the Color Guard, escort the detail bearing the Flags and destroy these Flags by burning. The members shall stand at attention."

Color Guard forms. The detail about faces. Preceded by the Color Guard, the detail marches down center to the fire. National Colors cross over and take position on the right of the fire, facing the Commander. Post Standard takes position on left of fire. The detail lines up behind the fire, which is burning low.

Commander: "The Chaplain will offer prayer."

Chaplain: "Almighty God, Captain of all hosts and Commander over all, bless and consecrate this present hour. We thank Thee for our Country and its Flag, and the liberty for which it stands.

"To clean and purging flame we commit these Flags, worn out in worthy service. As they yield their substance to the fire, may Thy Holy Light spread over and bring to our hearts renewed devotion to God and Country. Amen."

Commander: "Hand salute."

Color Guards present arms. Post Standard is dipped. All officers and members, except those on the Flag detail, salute. Member of the Flag detail dip the condemned Flags in kerosene and place them on a rack over the fire. Bugler sounds "To the Colors.

Commander, at conclusion of "To the Colors: " "Two".

The Color Guard shall resume its station and detail is dismissed.

Color Guard advances down center and places Colors. Members of the detail resume their places among the members.
